

Energy One is recruiting an operations/dispatcher Team Lead for Europe

As part of its strong European growth, the Australian group Energy One (energyone.com) is recruiting a Gas and Power Operations Team Lead for its Belgian (egssis.com) & French (eZ-nergy.com) subsidiaries.

We are a service provider for European power and gas market players (producers, suppliers, traders...). We build and offer a software platform (SaaS) for market operations automation and offer a 24/7 operational dispatching service allowing our clients to delegate all or part of their market activities to us.

We are recruiting a Team Lead for our growing team of 24/7 dispatchers.

Your Mission:

Reporting to the COO, you will be based in France (Paris) or Belgium (Aalst), depending on your preference.

- Recruitment and training of the operators-dispatchers team
- HR management, organization and daily supervision of the operators-dispatchers team
- Manage the implementation of a 24/7 global operations service (bringing together the Australian and European teams)
- Participate in regular on-call duty to ensure that you have a perfect command of the responsibilities of your team (energy trades, appointments, interface between the clients and the markets, etc)

Profile required:

- You have 5+ years of experience as an operator, dispatcher, or trader in the energy markets (gas & power)
- Higher education with specialization in engineering and/or business school, or a similar university degree is preferred
- Experience as a manager or senior team member is a plus
- You are autonomous and reactive and extremely rigorous
- You are a team player that takes ownership
- You are comfortable in a fast-paced and dynamic environment
- You have a perfect command of English and are at ease in minimum one other language (French, Dutch, German, Italian, Spanish, etc.)

Our strengths :

- Attractive remuneration package depending on experience
- A historical and recognized presence in Europe for over 10 years
- A fast-growing international group offering mobility opportunities (Australia, UK, France, Belgium)

About us:

EnergyOne is a fast-growing international group (Australia, UK, Belgium and France) with independent, human-sized and fast-growing subsidiaries based in Paris, France, Brussels, Belgium and Birmingham, UK.
